The Mack Model "B" was first produced in 1949 and remained in production until 1965 when it was replaced by the Mack Model "R". Even today, a Model "B" can occasionally be seen in operation. During their lifetimes, Mack Model "B" trucks were used for any number of tasks. These ranged from two and three axle tractors to tow trucks, to construction trucks. A Mack Model "B" could handle any job that required a heavy duty truck.
